

PUBLICITY MATERIAL

ART ON THE UNDERGROUND

“15 contemporary artists mark 150 years of the Tube” – the 15 leading artists were commissioned to celebrate London Underground’s birthday with a set of images across a range of media that reflects their varying approaches, offering a vibrant contemporary picture of London Underground. All these works will become part of the heritage that encompasses the legacy of London and its transport system. Each is illustrated in this 1/3 A4, 24pp booklet.

“Canary Wharf Screen: Season 5” – the first (reported) issue with the LU150 logo on the cover, covering May to July 2013, Who is a Community?, Linear, Documentation of Linear, Tube Map Film, these moving-image commissions will be shown on the screen at the north end of the ticket office, 1/3 A4 (x4).

CROSSRAIL

“Moving Ahead, Issue 28, June 2013” – Tunnel Boring Machines, named Elizabeth and Victoria, have broken through into the Canary Wharf station box on their westward journey from the Limmo site, the eastern tunnel team have created one of the largest mined caverns for Crossrail’s junction between its two eastern routes, A4 (x3).

“Old Oak – A Vision for the future” – the Government has announced proposals for a new Crossrail and HS2 station at Old Oak, potentially making it one of the best connected railway stations in the UK, maps and facts, A4 (x3).

“Moving London Forward” – a new Z-card with route diagram and updated information, reference 32620/30.

CYCLING

“Local Cycling Guides” – After a lengthy break new issues have resumed dated 2013, not 2012/2013 as previously, reported so far are those for areas 2 (Edgware &c.), 3 (Northwood &c.), 5 (Woodford &c.), 8 (Beckton &c.), 10 (Beckenham &c.), 11 (Lewisham &c.), 12 (Sutton &c.) and 13 (Coulston &c.).

“Prudential RideLondon” – because of this cycling festival on Saturday/Sunday 3 & 4 August 2013 a number of roads will be closed across London, booklets were produced for the boroughs affected each with a map showing the cyclists’ route and road closures, issues have been seen for Hammersmith & Fulham, Hounslow, Kensington & Chelsea, and Tower Hamlets, each is A5, 12pp.

LT MUSEUM

“Help Keep Heritage on the Move” – to mark the centenary of the First World War, the Museum is embarking on a project to return one of the last surviving B-type buses to working condition, 1/3 A4 (x4).

“Tube maps by LEGO” – a celebration of LU150 from an unexpected source: Duncan Titmarsh, the UK’s only Lego certified professional, has built models of five Underground maps, each made up of 1,000 Lego bricks, measuring 140x100cm. The maps are Stingemore 1927, Beck 1933, 1968, 2013 and a futuristic map for 2020, the leaflet contains small images of each together with instructions for building a free-standing Underground roundel from Lego parts. From 12 June this year for 12 weeks the maps will be displayed, one each, at Piccadilly Circus, South Kensington, Green Park, King’s Cross St. Pancras and Stratford stations, before being moved to the LT Museum. The leaflet is available in six versions: A5 (x3) and, slightly smaller, on card cut to resemble a 3-D representation of a Lego cube, with covers variously coloured black, blue, red, white and yellow. The text and illustrations are common to all but the layout of the A5 issue is obviously different.

MAJOR PROJECTS

“Transforming Tottenham Court Road” – in business card format, apparently from Crossrail but aimed at Central Line passengers, advising a 24 hour help desk phone number and E-Mail address.
